9TH ANNUAL SYMPOSIUM NOVEMBER 6-10, 2017
Tutoral on Pathology of the GI Tract, Pancreas and Liver
Westin New Orleans Canal Place
New Orleans, Louisiana

Course Goals & Objectives
This course is designed to educate physicians on advances in our understanding of gastrointestinal diseases, address problems faced during the pathological evaluation of tissue samples, and provide physicians with a framework for interpretation of both historical and modern patterns of disease and results of molecular analyses. The course will be conducted under the direction of Rhonda K. Yantiss, MD at the Westin New Orleans Canal Place in New Orleans, Louisiana, November 6-10, 2017. The program will consist of lectures, case presentations, interactive sessions, and discussions designed to provide attendees with an in-depth discussion of diagnostic problems that arise when evaluating malignancies of the gastrointestinal tract, pancreas, and liver, and to inform them regarding the application and interpretation of immunohistochemical and molecular studies in the diagnosis and classification of these diseases. An extensive list of completed presentations, lecture notes, and reference citations will be available online.

Target Audience
Surgeons, pathologists and pathologists-in-training.

General Information
The Tutoral consists of five days of lectures, case presentations and discussions. It will be held at the Westin New Orleans Canal Place, 100 Rue Iberville, New Orleans, LA 70130, United States.

Phone: (504) 566-7006 • http://www.westinneworleanscanalplace.com

Disclosure of Relationships/Content Validity
It is the policy of Well Cornell Medicine to adhere to ACCME criteria, policies, and standards for commercial support and content validation in order to ensure fair balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all its sponsored activities. All speakers, course directors, course co-directors, planners, reviewers, and staff members participating in sponsored activities are expected to disclose relevant financial relationships pertaining to their contribution to the activity. Relationship information is analyzed to determine whether conflicts of interest exist. All conflicts of interest are resolved prior to participation in the planning or implementation of this activity. Presenters and authors are also expected to disclose any discussion of (1) off-label or investigational uses of FDA approved commercial products and biologicals, (2) unapproved uses of products or devices not yet approved in the United States. Credit for attendance at the lectures is granted on an hour for hour basis and will be available online prior to the course. You will receive an email notification providing the link and password required to view and print the handouts. You may also opt to view the materials online during the course using your electronic device. Will Internet access will be provided at no additional charge.

Virtual Slide Session. On Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon, there will be a Virtual Slide Session. This is a new interactive addition to the Tutorial. Glass slides will be scanned as large files that can be viewed through software that will allow participants to manipulate the virtual image, similar to sitting at a microscope. The presenter will “teach at the microscope” and discuss findings with participants.

Confirmation/Seating
A written confirmation will be sent to all registrants. Early registration is recommended. Seating is limited, and seats will be assigned based regarding registration date. The assigned seat remains yours throughout the Tutorial.

Cancellation Policy
In the event of cancellation, the Tutorial fee is refundable, less a $175 service charge. After October 13, 2017, no refunds will be possible and no exceptions of any kind will be honored.

Accreditation and Credit Designation Statements
Well Cornell Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) as a provider of continuing medical education for physicians. Well Cornell Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 31.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Maintenance of Certification
The American Board of Pathology has approved the Tutorial as a Self-Assessment Module (SAM) Part II of the ABP Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program and designates this educational activity for a maximum of 20.0 SAM Credit(s).
